“ I had the pleasure of meeting John during the 2015-16 school year. Though he was always polite and well mannered, what I remember most was the love he had for his family. He made sure Jelisha was safe in class before beginning his day. His smile was contagious and his heart enormous. My heart goes out to his family, especially his mom and siblings, and many friends. John's love for others is a legacy which lives on as John watches from his heavenly home.

“ I had the pleasure of teaching John for two years (but knew him through Jamelia longer than that). He was always respectful and hard working. He loved his family especially his Mother. I smiled everyday when he entered the classroom. He would cheer me up with his stories. He brought happiness to the room with his smile. I will miss John's laugh and wished I could have checked on him more. I pray for the family during this difficult time. He thought the world of his family and I know he's watching over them. Love you all.

“ This was one of the kindest young men I've ever had the privilege of knowing. He was in my 7th period Art class this year and he came in EVERY DAY with a smile on his face and the willingness to create, experiment and above all help others. He never said a harsh word to anyone and always helped his tablemates in the studio when he finished his project. God has certainly claimed a new Angel for His works. I will always remember his kindness and his smile. His spirit, though missed, will live in the hearts of his loved ones, his classmates and all that were blessed to know him. <3

“ I want you to know that I was Anthony's Art teacher this year. I have seen many kids come and go, but this young man was one of the kindest by far. He was always in a good mood and so polite and kind to everyone around him. No matter what the day or what the situation, he had an inner glow that attracted people to him. He always helped other students and never balked at any assignment he was given. He was a true explorer and not afraid to try a project that he had never tried before. As soon as he was done, he would help other kids in the studio. My heart breaks for you because I know what a precious gift he really was. God definitely has a new angel in heaven with Him now. I hope each of you carries him in your heart and do commit to good deeds and kindness in his honor because this was a special young man,.

“ I am so saddened to learn of John's passing. I had the pleasure of teaching John last year. He always was very respectful. He entered my room every day with a smile on his face and a pleasant greeting. It was as a true joy to have him in my class. He will be missed. John and his family will be in my prayers.
With sincere sympathy, Ms. Susie White
