“Hi! My name is Shaylee. I'm a grade older than Brady. I recently graduated. Many of you might wonder how I knew him. Well my sophomore year of high school I was in geometry class. I didn't know freshman could join, but Brady being the smarty pants he was, was in there. I'm not very good at math, and I hated asking for help, but Brady saw right through me and helped me without me saying anything. He didn't make me feel stupid, he just helped. We were quick to become friends. We had so many things in common. He was like a little brother to me. Then my junior year comes around and I didn't have any classes with him. I saw him in the hallways and would say hi, but we didn't really talk. Eventually I make it to my senior year and guess what, Brady is back in my math class. We already had a bond so we sat next to each other and for the whole year almost every group we were in had one another. Brady was a very special guy. He was a strong kid. Rest in peace Brady. You will be missed by many, especially your family and friends.
