“ Growing up I remember my Grandfather Lloyd Powell, telling how my Dad got his name. Charles or Big Charlie as I have known my whole life. Ran track in high school and college. Lloyd told him is he won state he would name his first son Charles. For years We had Big Charlie and my dad little Charlie. Then I came along and there was as Big charlie said “ he’s the littlest charlie”. I didn’t se him and Faye except when we game up for family or revivals. I grew up and recall the last time I seen Charles. He looked and me and my dad and said we got this wrong he’s the Big Charlie. I still laugh today about it. He was one of the most loving, caring , and honorable men I have know. With a unyielding faith and love for family. He will be missed by all the he touches in life.
