“ Heavy D, my brother, what a good time we had over the years. Playing softball together was just one thing, but doing life together was so much more. I will cherish the times and memories we had forever. I don't think that I've met another guy with a bigger heart. Rest in peace my dear brother, you will be missed!
God bless,

“ My friend, Heavy. I am so very thankful for the many times we spent together with family and friends. I regret that we could only get together once a year when I moved away. I will always treasure those times. They were never enough. I continue to be inspired by how much you spread happiness around a room full of people. I love you, brother.

“ First and foremost, my prayers and heart-felt sympathies to the entire family.

My brother, I will miss you more than anything imaginable. 23 years of knowing you seems merely like yesterday. It was and is an absolute honor to be called "little brother" by you, Duck, Toby, John Dean, Danno, and so many others. That's what always stood out to me. It wasn't Gary; it was always little brother. You considered me family in every sense of the word. You wouldn't allow a hair on my head to be harmed. That's love only a brother can give. I never felt anything less and you were always there in that capacity and more. From softball; to a room-mate; to any encounter we've ever had in my honorable time knowing you; you always made me laugh and made me a better person. i could never pay proper tribute to the many lives you've touched. I can promise every one of them were smiling if not rolling on the floor in laughter. You have a special place in my heart and I know it will rear its head often to continue to spread your wisdom, love, and laughter to many people moving forward. Until my last breath, you will always be my brother. May God bless you and may God bless your family.

I will miss you Bubba,

Little brother
