“ I miss our football game phone conversations, and reading the paper together when I visited you and Mom. You were the best cornbread maker to walk the Earth, Dad. We had great laughs playing Wheel of Fortune together over the phone. I would call to announce I had won $45K while watching TV. Our make-believe winnings were the best! I miss you and love you dearly. I am so thankful for the simple memories we made together. I miss my football partner as well. Now Mom has joined you. There are no words to express how empty life seems at this moment in time. Rest in Peace Dad and Mom. Love, Pamela
