“ She was an extraordinary artist. Dynamic personality. Extremely intelligent. Kindest heart. Never met a stranger. Amazing photographer. Incredible Printing Press business owner. Loving. Forgiving. Fought through her life's troubles and always came out a winner. She was my friend and confidant when I struggled. I never did enough for her. I always loved her and I am sorry Diane for not being as good of a friend to you as you always were to me. Linda, I hope you are doing great. The world lost a true gift when Diane departed. You meet maybe three people in life that you will remember and love forever. Diane is one of those people for me. Will always mourn her passing, and hope there is something better on the other side of this life.
