“ I don't ever remember seeing Don without a smile on his face. He exuded happiness. I have one favorite memory of Don and it was the day Brande's first daughter was born. My husband was in the hospital and I was standing at the elevator waiting for its arrival when the door opened and out stepped Don. He was beyond excited and took me by the arm and said I must go see his beautiful new granddaughter. He ushered me down the hall and I stepped into the room where only the closest family members were and I saw this beautiful baby about an hour old. I have never seen such a proud grandfather. His joy was overflowing.

“ Darlene, Nancy, and Brandee -

I am so sorry about the loss of your husband and dad. He was one of the kindest and most loving people I ever had the good fortune to meet and many of my childhood memories include him from times at your house. May you all find peace and comfort in knowing what a beautiful, amazing soul he was and how many lives he touched with his. My prayers are with all of you. Much love and hugs, Brown family.
