“ Molly and I went as chaperones on his senior trip. It was a long ride to Florida and we passed through many small towns. A bunch of the kids were talking and laughing when we passed this sign outside a large lumber yard. Don saw the sign which said WELCOME and right below it STUDS. Don laughed and ask me how they knew he was in town. Needless to say, the kids threw whatever they had at him and he was rolling in the aisle. Don was one of a kind....laughed and loved to play football. He will be missed and we send our love to all his family. Clarence Wooten
