“ I remember when he first tried to date me. I told him I didn't want to because it would ruin our friendship. He said "no it wont." I said so you're telling me sex wont ruin our friendship. "Nope!"

"So you can guarantee that we'll always be friends no matter what happens?"

He took a second and looked at me and in his confident way and nod said "yeah"

"You promise friends no matter what?"

"Friends no matter what"

And from the age of 17 until he passed he kept his promise through everything we were always friends no matter what.

“ I remember the first time I met you, it was not a good first meet. I threatened to call the cops because you and 2 others were there to beat up my brother inlaw because my sister was being an asshole. Needless to say you left with the other two and no harm was done. Then I ran into you again over at bulldogs house and I sat i discussed with you why you should take something inparticular to the casino. You ignored me and did it anyways and ended up in jail. I paid your probation fees hoping that they would release you. Wellx when I talked to you again you said that was one of the nicest thing anyone has ever done for you and you were curious why I did it because you thought I hated you..... I never hated you just didn't know you..... we became close and I helped you get messages to mae..... I picked her up from rehab and as time went on we became real close you helped me get through the hard times when I was with Jason Ripley. We created a bond and that never fell apart. I miss you.... you. Were family.....you were my family. I love you forever even in death. You were my friend and brother.... hopefully we will meet again someday until then rest in peace.

“ It is still hard for me to believe you're really gone lil Eddie. When I first met you I knew that you would always be my friend my family from that day on. Most of my memories of you are from when we were in our teens you were this funny outgoing sometimes stubborn as hell just like Mom lol but always had love for his friends and family and always was there for them when you could. I remember up on my balcony you with a silly face yelling and waiting hi Grandma to every old lady walking or driving by regardless if we knew them or not LOL. You will always be loved and missed you are gone but you will never be forgotten. Until we meet again

“ Still hard to believe. Smh life is a booger bear. Watch over all of us. This world is a viscous place full of hateful people but you werent one of them. You never judged me or were mean to me or spread lies about me. Thank you for being my true friend. Thank you for never believing the lies. Keep me safe man I feel better knowing your up there watching over me
