“ "I am Joe's cousin on his mother's side of the family. His mother, my Aunt Bernice, was my Dad's sister. Joe was always good to come to our family funerals. We didn't have a lot of time to visit, but we would do the best we could to catch up on each other's families. Joe was a fun loving man. He and my Dad teased one another. Joe was a good looking man who always had a mischevious grin and a twinkle in his eyes. One summer Aunt Bernice and her two boys came to our farm for a visit. After a few days Joe got bored I think, and he did something that got on Aunt Bernice's nerves. The next thing we knew he was running from her, and she was right behind him. This looked funny to us because our Mama never chased us. She was too heavy to be able to run. I do not remember if she caught him nor the punishment if she did. It is good to share memories of loved ones.

We offer our condolences to all of Joe's family. Thank you for allowing us to look back to the good ole days. We encourage you to share your memories of Joe, while thanking the Good Lord for allowing him to be a vital part of your lives." Nell Dixon “ Joe was always fun to hang out with when we were kids. He and Skipper taught us how to climb up the fire escape slide at Marlin high school. The slide down was worth all the effort it took to get to the top. Joe and all our cousins were so kind to us - me, Bonnie and Freddy - the cousins from Groves. Hoping this share gives those closest to him a little light during these sad days. Julia Woodland Wise

*Joe was a good man.
While going to T.S.T.I COLLAGE as a foreign student from Jamaica in the early 1980's,
Joe was the equipment repair manager.
After school I would work on the Equipmant at nights, he would have a list of things I need to do . This was how I covered my school expenses. He was always cool under pressure. I admired him.
A man named Bryan Beacham was in charge of plant Maintenance at the time. Another good man.*

*F.m young would fly his helicopter to work in the morning and park on the roof.
God bless these men.*
