“ Johnny was a dear friend and he touched so many lives. He truly loved his children and grandchildren. He will be missed but not for long. Heaven is waiting for us to join him and our blessed Jesus.

“ Johnny knew everything about the electrical needs at HSRC/ACTI. He was an electrical genius. A big old building like that is a mystery to everyone. She was Johnny's baby. He kept her going through everything. Ice storms, severe weather, blackouts, were nothing to him. He always got us back up and running in little time. Johnny taught me so much about the place over the 14 years I knew him. But more than anything, he was an honest man, a man of integrity. He helped so many people, outside of work, but never said a word about it. He didn't brag about his accomplishments. I will always remember him this great man.

“ My father was not a saint, but he loved me and made sure I knew it. He loved his grandchildren, and he loved his siblings. For all his faults and flaws in this life, he was still a GOOD man, a GREAT father, an AWESOME brother, and a loyal friend. I wasn't ready. None of us were, but evidently God was, and now we'll rely on that father's love to comfort us as we grieve our earthly father's passing.

I am incredibly sad at Johnny's passing. He stood up for what he believed and drew great satisfaction out of helping people. His service to the State of Arkansas through ACTI will not be forgotten, and his expertise tempered with outgoing personality is greatly missed by everyone on or campus. My prayers go up for his family members, as well as his friends at ACTI that miss him dearly.
