“ I am at such a loss for words right now. I had no idea until I ran into Marji that anything had even happened. I am truly sorry for all that loved her, and considered her a true angel, for she will be missed by many. She had such a positive outlook on life, regardless of her downfalls. Truly inspirational, truly a beautiful person, inside and out. I know your sons, family, friends and acquaintances will be lost without you. Thank you for being my friend Karin.
