“ Dionne Bennett and family I am sorry to hear about the loss of your mother, but we have to remember that God's plan is something that we can't alter or change. He has prepared a better place for us where there's no pain or suffering. Your Mother is now in that place with him and she will always be watching over you'll and always in your heart. You have my strength and prayers because there will be some rough times to come, I lost my mother "the one that I loved dearly".
