“ I remember when me and max used to play outside and play Minecraft. The last memory of me and him I had was we were playing Minecraft in his hospital room. We were playing the newest tutorial world. It's been 4 years and I still can't get over his death.

“ Mighty Max was being prayed for at every service when we first came to One Refuge in January 2019. he won our hearts because the fight was so hard for him and he battled so strongly. After we were to see him the day that Make a Wish brought him to church as his wish...that says a lot about Max...then we saw first hand the faith and strength that he fought with. He is the ultimate person to have in mind when singing "this is how I fight my battle". Fight he did with awesome strength and Faith. He has taught so many about that. Max you are Mighty and we are proud to have known you and prayed for you and we will continue to hold your family up in prayer. Say hello to Jesus for us Love June and Jim Miller

“ Max was at my house every day for a very long time. I loved hearing that little voice asking, "Can Woowoo play?" It took me a long time to find halfway decent pictures of him, simply because he was always going. And when he did stop the wheels in his head would start going. He always asked questions I didn't even know that kids could ask. He taught my daughter so much. Even on the very rare occasion, I saw him not be such a ray of sunshine, it never lasted. He FOUND reasons to be happy with life, and that is what he taught me. We are keeping you guys always in our prayers and hearts. I love you guys as much as Mighty Max loved the world.
