“ You were deeply cherished by everyone who knew you, words can't express how much your presence meant to us. I'm struggling to find the right words, but all I can say is that I'm eternally grateful for the memories and our friendship. I miss you terribly and hope you're finally free from pain, soaring above with Charla, smiling and laughing. A part of me died with you when you left, and I'll never forget you. Your legacy lives on through your beautiful daughter, and I promise to always care for her. Thank you for being my best friend, for always being true to yourself, and for always being there. Until we meet again, I love you my friend ALWAYS & FOREVER
