“ I had no idea Pat had passed on, I was taking a break from Facebook. I was wondering why she wasn't answering her phone. She was such an amazing woman, strong, caring and beautiful inside out. I first met her in a library in Crosby, ND. I used to go there often with my one year old son Jaskrit. She would teach him how to solve puzzles and play board games and she was like a breath of fresh air in that town. She was funny, open to new ideas, cultural experiences and most importantly an amazing story teller. She moved away from Crosby and we kept in touch for almost seventeen years. I am so glad we got to meet in the spring of 2017, when we were college hunting for Jaskrit. I admired her spirit so strong and beautiful, she was staying strong for her boys but I knew she deeply missed Yvette. I miss her.....I also wish she had written down her stories..

“ A very sweet lady, that loved and adored her furbabies. We talked many times about Reynolds Metals Company memories. I will miss her wit and wisdom. Wayne Voss

“ I was Patsy’s second cousin, but never really knew her growing up as we were the military family who lived over 60 miles away. When she moved back to Arkansas last May, I wanted to get to know her better. Anyway, for Christmas dinner I found myself going to the Arlington Hotel and I invited Patsy, and she accepted. Not thinking, I had put Patsy and my son, who had never met and were both known to be very outspoken, together. And California politics was brought up and they didn’t agree. I held my breath waiting for the fireworks to begin, but Patsy backed down. I was so very grateful. I will miss her. In lieu of flowers, I have her crazy dog Mr. P and my son took in her 3 cats. Mr. P is actually well-mannered dog.
