“ As her baby brother I had one job in my youth and that was to terrorize my big sister. It wasn't until later in our lives that she told me this: During summer break at 8, 9 years old timeframe for me our normal day was filled with, "STOP IT DERRICK!" Now I knew to watch the clock for when Mom would come home from the clinic so I wouldn't get in trouble but I always forgot that Thursday was her short day. Rita said she always cried when I was being whipped not just because of my crying while being punished but because on Thursdays I wouldn't listen to her when she'd say "It's Thursday, Derrick! Mom'll be home any minute!" I adored my sister.
