“ I had been thinking about you for several days and weeks and I really didn't know why. I tried to find you on social media to no avail and then about 5am this morning I stumbled upon the news of your demise. I feel so bad that I did not get to see or speak with you before you left. You know I always had a special love for you even when you made me mad as hell. I always wanted the very best for you. Love and miss you man
