“ My name is Judy Hendricks and my husband, Larry Hendricks, considered Mr Tom one of our Walgreens' Friends, we have known Mr. Tom for 5 years and when we would shop in his store he was always so happy to help us, as well as other customers, with enthusiasm and when he was working in Photos we asked him to help us with our 50th Wedding Anniversary Photos, and he worked diligently until he made sure the pictures were perfect before printing. He was so proud to have his position as supervisor and took great pride in his appearance with the required Walgreens' attire. If he could not find what you were looking for he kept on until he did find it. Walgreens not only lost one of their best employees but helped Walgreens to continue being number 1 in the industry. He followed the rules and regulations to the best of his ability. Always thinking of the customer and never harsh never once appearing to have a BAD DAY. We lost not only a friend but a good Man, he served his country with pride and still showed the love for our United States of America. Mr. Tom, you will be greatly missed, and our prayer is that your Walgreens Family, will always remember the example of how to introduce new customers to want to be permanent customers because of his wonderful expression to show enthusiasm when they would come through those doors of Walgreens. He not only would make sure you found what you wanted to purchase, but just downright from his heart to know how you were feeling and in every way to make your shopping experience at HIS STORE not just a CHATTING Time, but a true from his heart a caring time. It is Employees like Mr Tom that keeps Walgreens in business. We will greatly miss Mr Tom.

“ Tommy was my first real boyfriend and gave me his high school pin to wear. I thought I was too cool going back to my school and claiming to be going steady with someone so cool. My parents and his parents were friends and we had many good memories... my favorite being ‘ the chocolate drop cookies Tommy made’ I still make them today and always think of the Eudy’s. I wish peace and strength for everyone. God has allotted each of us a block of time. The measure doesn’t matter;it’s the life lived within it. May we all seek to have an eternal perspective through such seasons. Love and hugs Kathy
