“ This is Patricia Johnson George, when I was a kid and my Uncle Tillman was and Willie Lee would both be home at the same time they would always come visit us and then the party would start. They were both fun by their self, but together look out.. From time to time we would run into each other and he would always give me a big hug and we would just stand there and visit and catch up with each other.
Good bye Willie Lee I will miss you.
